Summary

I am a Louisville native, and I love the City of Louisville. This position will give me the opportunity to improve the conditions of our city, in particular Louisville Metro District 6, where I have resided for over 30 years, and have long been known for engaging community groups in order to shape programming and economic development initiatives that meet the needs of the citizens/constituents of Louisville Metro 6th District, and the West End overall.

My objectives are to build and sustain healthy relationships with my constituents through community engagement, and through collaborative efforts with Louisville Metro District Council colleagues, community partners, and stakeholders. I will be able to build on existing partnerships and momentum with community members, businesses (including Clariant and GE Appliances), foundations (including Humana Foundation, James Graham Brown Foundation and the Community Foundation of Louisville), faith organizations, educational institutions and city leaders to bring ideas, resources and innovations to the District, with the help of my colleagues on Metro Council.

I've dedicated my skills and experience to serving the community in the many leadership roles listed below. To be effective, I believe a Metro Council member needs to wear many hats and be a jack-of-all-trades in many respects. In addition to having very practical, hands on construction and engineering skills, my many experiences in managing volunteers, organizing events, planning, project management, writing and speaking, knowing the processes and procedures of working collaborations, making connections across state lines, and especially successful fundraising are all key assets to bring to the work of the City. With a strong track record of outreach and connecting with community constituents, and connecting them to one another, my goal is to do what is true and right for the people of the city of Louisville.
