Major,

Attached are quotes for two different radar machines. The speed alert 18 is what we currently have. The speed alert 24 has a larger display screen and can display more safety messages that the 18 cannot. The trailer is the same size. Both work on the same operating software, cloud based data gathering, reports, etc. Just depends on how much money they are willing to spend.

After they are reviewed and a choice is made let me know and I'll work with them and OMB to get it going.

Thanks

Good afternoon,

We are looking to purchase another radar machine similar to what we purchased a few years ago. If there is a newer model with other options we would consider that also. Please let me know what options you have and a price quote.
