

Since becoming a licensed real estate agent 35 years ago, Kristen English has been helping Louisville residents and transferees through the home buying and selling processes. Kristen is a true advocate for her clients every step of the way, from first-time home buyers to empty nesters.

A licensed Realtor since 1985, Kristen continues to be a top producer at Lenihan Sotheby's International Realty. Her customer service-oriented strategy and diligence make her clients' experience seamless and stress-free. Kristen's close attention to detail results in her finding the best property for her clients.

In addition to her top-rated service, she maintains a strong commitment to the real estate profession, including serving on:

- Former member of The Greater Louisville Association of Realtors (GLAR) Board of Directors as a Vice President
- Current member of The Metro Search (MSI) Board
- GLAR Finance Committee
- Former member of GLAR Forms Committee
- Former member of The By-Laws task force
- GLAR building committee
- The Kentucky Realtors Grievance and Ethics Panel

Kristen is also an active member within the Louisville community, including:

- Current Board Member of The Habitat for Humanity of Metro Louisville, serving on the home selection committee
- Former board member of The Healing Place

A Kentucky native, Kristen graduated from the University of Kentucky with a degree in Economics.

When she's not busy helping clients navigate the Louisville real estate market, Kristen enjoys playing tennis, gardening and sampling the many delicious local Louisville restaurants. She has two daughters, both working in finance field.
