REQUEST

- Amendment to Record Plat

CASE SUMMARY/BACKGROUND/SITE CONTEXT

The subject cases were previously heard by the Development Review Committee (DRC) on July 3rd, 2013, who decided that it should be heard before the Planning Commission.

The proposal in each case is a minor subdivision plat that creates a new buildable lot. The residual tracts are part of the Glenmary Golf Club, owned and operated by Par Golf, LLC. They are designated as recreation area on the record plats. The applicant requests an amendment to each record plat by way of a minor plat.

LAND USE/ZONING DISTRICT/FORM DISTRICT

The existing use of each lot is recreation area and the proposed use is single family residential. The existing and proposed zoning and form districts are R-4 and N, respectively. The surrounding land uses of each lot are either residential or recreational (golf course) and are in the same zoning and form districts.

PREVIOUS CASES ON SITE

The proposed lot in 19173 is located in Glenmary, Section 2 (PB 37, PG 101) which was recorded in 1990.

The proposed lot in 19174 is located in Glenmary, Section 2 (PB 37, PG 100) and Glenmary, Section 3 (PB 39, PG 45) which were originally recorded in 1990. The latter section was revised in 1991.

The proposed lot in 19219 is located in Glenmary, Section 2 (PB 37, PG 99) which was recorded in 1990.

The Glenmary rezoning and subdivision were approved in dockets 9-67-88 and 10-34-88, respectively.

In Minor Plat Docket #146-06 a request was made by the current owner to create 3 new lots from the same residual tract designated as Recreation Area. This proposal was heard by DRC on August 23, 2006 where the committee required the applicant to provide notification to all property owners within Section 2 of the Glenmary Subdivision. The case came before DRC again on April 4, 2007 where the committee voted to continue the case to the April 19, 2007 Planning Commission Business Session. The applicant instead chose not to pursue the proposal any further.

An Amendment to Record Plat was approved in Glenmary, Section 2 by DRC under case 15654, which created a new buildable lot in the recreation area of the recorded plat in PB 37 PG 99.

TECHNICAL REVIEW

The minor subdivision plat is in order and has received preliminary approvals from Transportation Review, the Metropolitan Sewer District, and the Fern Creek Fire Protection District.

STAFF CONCLUSIONS

Each request is in compliance with all zoning and subdivision regulations. The record plat amendments will allow a new buildable lot to be created. Record plat amendments do not have a standard of review, unless the applicant also requests approval of a discretionary item such as a waiver or variance. The power to approve a subdivision plat is a ministerial action reserved for the Planning Commission or its designee.

The subdivision regulations in Section 7.1.91 of the Land Development Code (1) give the Planning Commission the power to amend any recorded plat and (2) require in cases where all owners whose property is subject to the recorded plat and are affected by the record plat amendment, but have not given consent, be given reasonable notice and a reasonable opportunity to express their objections or concerns. Reasonable notice was determined by DRC on June 5th, 2013. An opportunity for the affected parties to express their objections or concerns was given on July 3rd, 2013.

The Planning Commission must determine whether all persons who may be affected by the record plat amendment were given reasonable notice and whether they were given an opportunity to express their objections or concerns. If both conditions have been satisfied, then the request to amend the recorded plats shall be approved as each subdivision plat is in compliance with the applicable regulations.

REQUIRED ACTIONS

- APPROVE or DENY the Amendment to Record Plat for each case.
