Charles,

The alley in question near 1041 to 1045 S43rd St is currently asphalt with a lot of vegetative growth through cracks. I suggest 2 inch mill and overlay with fiber reinforced asphalt. No sidewalk ramps need to be updated. Coming up with an estimate of $6,000.00 for this section.

The section just south of Grand Ave from 1047 to 1053 is currently gravel. To convert to an asphalt alley, I suggest a 12 inch excavation, replacement with 4 inches of KY #3 stone covered with 4" of DGA, and then 4" of asphalt. Coming up with a cost of $12,500.00 for this small section.

Total for both sections would be $18,500.00.

Thanks,

Mr. Haines , the alley in question is on S 43rd Street from 1041- 1053 S 43rd Street and it starts of Greenwood Ave at 43rd St and extends from Greenwood Ave across Grand Ave and stops about a half block before Sunset Ave (the last half block is a grass easement) SR# 7920695

#2 I also entered a alley in the 4200 Block of Hale Ave SR# 7920645.

Hello Matt,

I am reaching out to ask you to send confirmation emails to accept funds for two projects in District 1.

1. Alley paving – 1000 block of 43rd Street
2. Alley paving – 4200 block of Hale Avenue

If possible could you send these two emails by the end of business today?

Regards,
