Happy Friday! I guess my brain is slowing down... I want to make sure that I am not dropping the ball. Do I need to submit a completed application for Champion for the Aging Award sponsorship or is there another process in which the funds would be designated from you? Sorry to have to ask! Thank you. Lisa

Thanks, Lisa

March 24, 2015

Dear Friend,

Sixty-five year-old Mary had been in an abusive marriage for 45 years when she was diagnosed with Parkinson's disease. Because stress makes the symptoms worse, she was getting weaker each day and could barely walk. Mary realized that she had to get out of her situation. Connie, an advocate at ElderServe, was there to help her each step of the way through the legal process. Today Mary is safe, has peace of mind, and her Parkinson's symptoms are minimal. Last fall she even went on a bird watching trip with her sister!

As an active volunteer and 2015 Chair for the Champion for the Aging Award Luncheon I understand the great need for services for the increasing population of older adults in Louisville. I invite you to show your support for seniors like Mary and become a sponsor of our 2015 event Friday, June 12 at the Galt House, East. 11:30am networking noon – 1:30pm program. Serving 3,000 older adults a year throughout Metro Louisville, ElderServe empowers older adults to live independently with dignity. They provide much needed services including care management, homecare, telephone reassurance, companion services, crime victim services and a senior community center.

I am proud to announce Reverend Ron Loughry as this year's Champion for the Aging Award recipient. Reverend Loughry serves as the Executive Director of the Fern Creek/Highview United Ministries, and as a minister within the Christian Church Disciples of Christ. Reverend Loughry has worked with older adults for more than 30 years as an advocate and an aging services provider in Louisville.

The funds raised through this luncheon are vital for the advancement of our mission in the community. Thank you for considering this request. Sponsorship benefits are enclosed.

Sincerely,
