Great! Are you ok with splitting this at $10,000 per district?

Good afternoon, Councilwoman Holton Stewart. Arnoldtown Road has been brought up a few times to us regarding speeding. Public Works said the road is not eligible for speed humps and suggested 4 driver feedback signs ($20k), if we want to do something (please see email thread below). Councilman Blackwell is interested in this and wanted to see if D25 would want to partner on this as we share the road. Please let us know your thoughts.

Thank you,
Heather

Councilman Blackwell and Councilwoman Holton Stewart would like to split the cost of 4 driver feedback signs for Arnoldtown Road at a cost of $20,000 ($10,000 from each District). I will create the CIF. Will you accept funds from District 25 and 12 for this project?

Thank you,

Greg and Heather,

In situations like this, on roadways like this, I would recommend driver feedback signs. They are running around $10,000 for a pair. I would recommend (4) or more if you would like to calm traffic along this entire roadway.

Thanks,

Stuart

Heather,

Based on the classification of the road (metro thru road- collector level Road), speed humps cannot be installed, but I'll forward this to our assistant director and see if he has any suggestions for other traffic calming devices.

Heather,

I copied Mr. Greg Dow on this email. He is a Traffic Engineering Technician with Public Works. He's probably better suited to answer your questions and discuss effective solutions. If not, he may be able to point you in the right direction.

Based on your expertise, would this data show that any type of traffic calming measures would be needed/helpful? If so, are there specific ones you all have found to be more effective than others?
