Gail Strausburg Morris

Gail Morris has served as Executive Coordinator and Manager of Office Operations for the Downtown Development Corporation since 1999. Prior to that, Ms. Morris was Executive Assistant to the Executive Director of the DDC and the Louisville Development Authority, then a governmental agency of the City of Louisville, from 1992 through 1998. Ms. Morris, a 1993 graduate of University of Louisville, returned to the public sector following a thirteen year hiatus as stay-at-home mother of two sons. During that time, Ms. Morris was a member of the Board of Trustees, Louisville Collegiate School, and the Cherokee Triangle Neighborhood Association, a historic preservation district of which she has been a resident for some thirty years. Ms. Morris also served on the Board of Architectural Review for the Louisville Landmarks Commission. From 1986 to 1992, Ms. Morris was Assistant to the President, The E. J. Flynn Company, a management psychological consulting firm to service-oriented businesses and industry.

Ms. Morris is responsible for management of scheduling, organization, and coordination of meetings related to the Downtown Development Corporation business activity, on and off site, in conjunction with the Executive Director and the DDC Project Director. Ms. Morris serves as staff liaison with the DDC Board of Directors. In addition, Ms. Morris serves in a fiduciary role for the DDC.
