Foster Care Opportunities and Preferences

What are you interested in fostering?

Dog Foster Care (please select at least one option)	✓
Short-term (awaiting rescue transport, recovering from surgery, etc. Usually 2 weeks-1 month)
Behavioral issues (dogs not suitable for "average" adopters who may need some help with obedience training or other behavioral issues. Can be indefinite, but at least until they are rehabilitated)
Medical issues (may be short-term or long-term, but fosters need to be okay with administering treatments, trips to our vet, etc.)
Pregnant or nursing mothers with puppies (usually a 1-3 month commitment)
Weaned puppies not big enough for adoption (usually a 2 week-2 month commitment)
Unweaned (bottle-fed) puppies without a mother (usually a 1-3 month commitment)
Long-term Foster (for dogs who do not do well in a shelter or for other reasons. Often indefinite, until the dog can be adopted out from your home)

Cat Foster Care (please select at least one option)	✓
Short-term (awaiting rescue transport, recovering from surgery, etc. Usually 2 weeks-1 month)

Foster Manual

Our Foster Program is essential to the life-saving efforts at LMAS. We rely on people like you to help us save the too young, sick and injured animals who need our care.

Foster parents take into their homes dogs and cats that are:

- Too Young or underweight: Kittens and puppies, in a litter or paired up with another orphaned kitten or puppy. They are fostered until they are eight weeks old and weigh two pounds. Most kittens and puppies are fostered for 2-6 weeks. These litters are not with a mother. In some circumstances, the kittens are not weaned and they may need bottle-feeding.
- Nursing Moms and babies: Litter of kittens and puppies with their moms are fostered until the babies are 8 weeks old and weigh two pounds. There are times when mom does push a kitten away or a kitten wanders off, so you may need to supplement these babies with some replacement formula. Generally, mom does all the work until the babies start to have teeth. The mom will feed, stimulate the babies to go to the bathroom and clean up after them.
- Ill or recovering from injuries: Dogs and cats suffering from a minor common ailment, such as an upper respiratory infection, eye infections, or ear issues will often be sent to foster to recover in a home environment. These are usually minor cases, but it is recommended these animals be kept from resident dogs and cats to avoid spreading any diseases. We also get dogs and cats that have had surgeries such as amputations that need some time to recover away from the shelter. Foster time will depend on the nature of the injury or illness.
- Minor behavior issues: We often get dogs that need some help with common things like walking on a leash or being fearful. Some cats may also be fearful, or not be adjusting well in the shelter. They often just need some help with socialization to get them ready for adoption.
- Waiting Rescue Transport: Some dogs and cats are sent to smaller/breed specific rescue organizations. When an animal has a confirmed spot with a rescue, they will sometimes need a foster home until the rescue can arrange transportation. This would be a short term foster situation of 1-2 weeks. Animals waiting for rescue transport should be closely monitored for any signs of illness as many rescues will not transport sick animals.
- Overcrowding: Some dogs and cats may be sent to foster homes to help alleviate overcrowding problems in the shelter. This would be a short term foster assignment of approximately 1-2 weeks or until there is space open and available for the animal.

Some Things to Consider Before Fostering

- Puppy and Kitten Fatalities: Something to be aware of before you begin fostering is that sometimes foster animals become ill and pass away in foster care. This is the hardest thing about fostering and if this is a possibility that you don't think you'd ever want to risk encountering perhaps volunteering at our shelter and working with the animals there might be a better volunteer fit.

We do everything we can for every animal that comes to us, but sometimes we just can't save them. The fatality rate on kittens is 1 in 5 won't make it. So the more you foster your chances increase that you will have some die in your care. Without foster homes, these babies would not have a chance to survive at all. Although there are some foster babies we cannot save, the important thing is that we try for each and every one.

- Block off access to any nooks and crannies that might be dangerous or in which they might get stuck.
- If the puppies or kittens have access to a bathroom, keep the toilet seat down. They can climb in and drown.
- Puppies obviously are not housebroken, so you will need to confine them to an area where it is okay for them to potty. Kittens under about 8-weeks-old are not always consistent in using the litter box so you should try to confine them to an area that is easily cleaned and accidents will not damage flooring.
- It is strongly recommended that your foster animal be kept in a crate when you are not there to supervise.

Vet Services

Foster animals usually need additional vaccinations while in foster care. It will be the responsibility of the foster parent to transport the animal to the shelter or to Animal House for vaccinations and routine medical care. If your foster needs vaccinations, you will receive a vaccine schedule with your foster paperwork.

For each foster animal, you will receive a Vaccine Schedule, which will document the dates each vaccination is received as well as when the foster animal is due for another round (if needed).

Vaccinations can be given at either facility (Manslick or Animal House) any time they are open (hours are listed at the bottom of this document). Please call ahead if you plan to come to Animal House as not all staff are trained to vaccinate. If you need additional veterinary care for your foster animal, please contact the Vet Tech Office at 502-574-5669.

If your foster animal needs to be seen by the veterinarian, please call ahead and discuss the situation with vet tech staff. Veterinarian hours are 12:00pm-3:00pm Monday through Friday. You may also e-mail vet staff at animalservicesvetstaff@louisvilleky.gov for non-emergency medical questions or concerns.

*If you choose to take your foster animal to an outside veterinarian, you are required to provide all information to the Foster Coordinator as well as information on any treatments provided including listing of medications, vet history and records from each appointment. ****

ALL foster animals will need to be spayed/neutered BEFORE being adopted out, no exceptions. Foster appointments are on Wednesdays and Fridays. You will need to contact the MAS Foster Coordinator to schedule the "Work Up" appointment if one has not already been set up when you initially pick up the animal.

Please be aware that the appointments may be scheduled out several weeks, and you may have to wait before getting your foster animals in.

You will need to drop your foster off the morning of the appointment between 8am and 9am at the Manslick Rd location (if you are unable to drop your foster off in this time frame, please let the adoptions staff know so that they can try to help make other arrangements). They MUST NOT eat after 12am the night before, water is okay. If any food is consumed, the surgery may need to be rescheduled. PLEASE notify vet staff if this is the case before/when dropping off the animal.

After-Hours Vet Services

Unfortunately, your options are limited after the shelter closes. LMAS simply does not have the resources (money and staff) to provide 24-hour vet care. If your foster animal needs emergency veterinary care, you can contact LMAS Dispatch until 11:00pm at 502-363-6609, they will assess the situation and contact vet staff if needed.

fungus in their hair coat without showing signs of itching, scaly skin, and hair loss. In people, the classic lesion is a raised, reddened, and itchy "ring."

Disease Transmission

At the core to managing and controlling the spread of any disease is a good cleaning plan and an understanding of how diseases are transmitted. Diseases are transmitted in the following ways:

- Direct Contact – involves direct body surface to body surface — from one animal to another or from an animal to a human.
- Indirect Contact– contact between susceptible animal and a contaminated inanimate object, such as equipment, clothing, or surfaces. Often the result of poorly washed hands.
- Droplet – small infectious droplets that do not remain suspended in the air but travel a short distance through the air and deposit on the host's mucosal surfaces. Droplets can also land in the environment and lead to indirect contact transmission.
- Airborne –infectious residue from dried droplets or dust remains suspended and able to travel distances through the air. This residue is infectious for long periods of time.
- Vector – disease transmission occurs through another animal capable of transmitting disease host, such as a rodent, fly, mosquito, or tick.

Reducing the Risks

- Good Hand Hygiene: Clean hands before and after handling animals or items in the animals' environment. Alcohol-based hand sanitizers: are recommended when hands are not visibly soiled. They provide for a rapid kill of most transient microorganisms. Soap and water: Recommended when significant soiling or risk is present.
- Cleaning and Disinfecting Items: Soaps and detergents are cleaning agents that work by suspending dirt and grease and breaking up organic matter. Soaps do not necessarily kill germs. Dish and laundry soaps are common examples of detergents. Disinfectants are chemical solutions that kill germs. The particular germs killed depend on the ingredients in the disinfectant. Bleach is a common disinfectant.

Foster Help Notification

LMAS staff send out emails giving details about the animals in need of a foster home, as well as post dogs/cats in need via Facebook on Derby City Dog Rescue page.

If you are interested in an animal you have seen on Facebook, please email: MASFoster@louisvilleky.gov that you would like to help. You should indicate what animals you are interested in (please include the Animal ID#), and when you are available to pick them up.

Most foster assignments are between 2-4 weeks. Some may be longer or shorter depending on how the age of the animals or how fast an animal recovers from illness or injury. If you take a mom and new-born kittens, this would be a 2 months to 3 month assignment. If the request doesn't specify all the information or you have questions, please ask!

We welcome and encourage cute, up to date pictures of your foster animal. These pictures will be placed on the LMAS and Petfinder websites. After you begin to learn some personality traits and habits for your foster animal, you can also submit a short description and story about your foster. Submit to MASFoster@Louisvilleky.gov

We encourage foster parents to take an active role in the adoption of their foster animal. You know your foster better than anyone, so talk them up to family and friends! You can offer important information and insight into the best possible home for your foster. If you find you're foster a potential home please let LMAS adoption staff know. All adopters (including family, friends, or fosters themselves) will need to go through the regular LMAS adoption process before the animal can leave foster care. Unless approved by the Foster Coordinator, under no circumstances will the foster animal leave your care for any reason or any length of time. Meet and greets are allowed and highly encouraged. Overnight/weekend visits or "trial adoptions" are not.

Thank you for your interest in fostering an animal in need. Know that you are truly making a difference in their lives!
