4. Justification Statement

We began our conditional use permit process on February 13, 2019, which was before there was any discussion of a 600-ft rule. This home is the only short-term rental on our street, so there are no current saturation concerns. Started the permit process on 2/13 - Well before there was even discussion of a 600-ft rule. The houses are very close together so 600-ft is not as fair to property owners in this area as it is in more suburban areas with larger lot sizes. Our property literally backs up to high-density commercial zoning, including brewery and nightlife establishments. This is exactly where the city would like short-term rentals to exist. There is a two-car garage with this house, so there is adequate off-street parking.

Lastly, 18CUP1053 was just approved on June, 17th for 909 E Washington Street in NULU for a duplex that had 3 approved CUPs within 600 feet because the location was found to be appropriate. You believe the same is the case here - if not better, for the reasons mentioned above.
