WHEREAS, Planning Commissioners, Planners, and Council Members put in countless hours working to come to final approval of development plans; and

WHEREAS, the Louisville Metro Code of Ordinances (“LMCO”) § 153.21 makes binding element violations a civil offense which may subject the violator to a civil fine and/or remedial orders of the Planning Commission; and

WHEREAS, the lack of follow through and oversight of development plans and binding elements can create lackadaisical adherence to approved plans; and

WHEREAS, LMCO § 153.22 grants the Planning Commission the authority to make findings and issue orders to remedy any violation of a binding element; and

WHEREAS, overwhelmed enforcement personnel within Planning and Design Services are faced with backlogs of cases that delay adherence and take valuable time away from other duties within the department; and

WHEREAS, Kentucky Revised Statute (“KRS”) § 100.403 defines a Land Use Enforcement Officer in a county with a consolidated local government as an officer authorized by the planning commission to enforce binding elements; and

WHEREAS, LMCO § 153.23 authorizes Land Use Enforcement Officers the ability to issue citations for binding elements but requires officers to personally observe or investigate violations; and

WHEREAS, LMCO § 153.23 mandates all citations be hand-delivered to the alleged violator; and

WHEREAS, KRS § 100.401 was adopted by the 2014 General Assembly to strengthen the enforcement of binding elements which have been approved by a consolidated local government; and

WHEREAS, on the job training for enforcement officers is an important aspect of their duties, the lack of formal training support from Louisville Metro Government leaves them at a distinct disadvantage when faced with the required, successful completion of their examination.
