ORDINANCE NO. _____, SERIES 2014

AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING THE CITY AND ITS VENDORS FROM ENGAGING IN HIRING POLICIES AND PRACTICES AGAINST PERSONS PREVIOUSLY CONVICTED OF CRIMES AND PROHIBITING THE PLACEMENT OF A “CHECK THE BOX” ON CITY JOB APPLICATIONS BY PERSONS HAVING CRIMINAL CONVICTIONS (Amended by Substitution As Amended).

Sponsored By: Council Members Attica Scott, Barbara Shanklin, Mary Woolridge, David Tandy, Cheri Bryant Hamilton, David James, Tina Ward-Pugh, Rick Blackwell

WHEREAS, in 2012, the United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (“EEOC”) issued guidelines urging employers to take into consideration when evaluating job applicants, to consider such factors like: the crime committed, how much time has elapsed since conviction and its relation to an applicant’s potential job; in addition states and municipalities that have enacted “ban-the-box” type legislation, have enumerated and adopted a number of similar factors to take into consideration when considering to hire an applicant who is an ex-offender.

WHEREAS, in keeping with the principles of rehabilitation of society’s criminal offenders and restorative justice, to ameliorate the effects of massive unemployment amid widespread incarceration, and in an attempt to improve employment prospects in communities, it seems only fair, reasonable, just, and proper that the Louisville Metro Government adopt similar policies in line with other governing bodies throughout the nation to assist in restoring ex-offenders to a productive life in society, rather than relegating our neighbors to a life of unending retribution; and

WHEREAS, there are approximately over 160,000 individuals in Metro Louisville, that have incidents on their criminal record that currently prevent them from gaining suitable employment; and

WHEREAS, it has been the practice of Louisville Metro Government, by and through its Human Resources Department, not to allow an employment applicant’s past criminal history to be a sole determinate for gaining employment with Louisville Metro Government; and

WHEREAS, it is the desire of Louisville Metro Government to be a leader by example for other business entities that contract with Louisville Metro, and encourage them to adopt hiring practices similar to national and local business chains that have adopted similar type practices.

WHEREAS, it is the intent of Louisville Metro Government to undertake steps to remove potential barriers for individuals with criminal records and who have fully completed their sentences to enter the workforce, and to codify the practice of Louisville Metro Government, by and through its Human Resources Department, not to allow an employment applicant's past criminal history to be a sole determinate for gaining suitable employment.
