Mr. Hudson,

I'm including the case manager, Molly Clark, on this email so she can add your comments to the official record so Planning Commissioners can read them.

Thank you!

I am writing about the proposed building of apartments at 9614 Old Six Mile Lane. I will be unable to attend the meeting next Tuesday at the Jeffersonian but wanted to make my feeling about the proposed complex known. I will say it bluntly, NO MORE APARTMENTS IN JEFFERSONTOWN!!!! I am also very concerned about the development taking place on Taylorsville Road. I am all for progress but please do not keep approving more building as I do not want to see J-town turn into another bottleneck like Bardstown Road in Fern Creek.

Thank you.

Good afternoon Steve,

Thanks for reaching out. I do not see a spot zoning case. Firstly, it's residential to residential. While there's an increase in density, it's not greatly exaggerated beyond the context of the area. The high school adjacent isn't a traditional R-4 use. Further, there are R-6 & R-7 zoned properties very nearby. And most importantly it complies broadly, even encouraged, with the goals and policies of the comprehensive plan. If this was a case of M-1 Industrial proposed, for example, or it was another incompatible zone, I would feel differently.

I appreciate the question Steve! I always encourage conversation and feedback and am happy to assist you all how I can.

Best,

Zack Jones

9614 Old Six Mile Lane

Any thoughts about this being spot zoning? The other multi-family rezonings along Old Six Mile have been adjacent to other multi-family zoned and used properties.
